Aix, July 4.

TH E last Advices from Toulon say, that the Plague is abated there; but that it continues in its utmost Fury at Arles; and as they stand in need of Persons to attend the Sick, and carry away the Dead, whose Number in a Day amounts to 100, 4 Surgeons and an Apothecary.
 Foreigners, are this Morning set out for that Place, and likewise 12 Bearers, escorted by 6 Soldiers, who are to be relieved by others at the Limits of every District on the Way. A Gentleman of Te-rason is appointed Gouvernour of Arles, by Order from Court, in the Room of the former, who has been removed by reason of Neglect of his Duty: The Consuls will also be displaced, and it is believed will be condemned to pay a large Fine, for having left the City to the Mercy of the Mob at the Time of the late Sedition. The Inhabitants are permitted to go out to gather in their Harvest, though upon certain Conditions which they are to observe upon pain of Death, viz. The Men to wear constantly while they are abroad in the Fields a White Cockade in their Hats, and the Women a Piece of White Linnen on their Shoulders, in order to prevent the Country People from having any accidental Communication with them. The Infection continues violent at St. Remy: The Perfumer of Hospes at Salon has caught the Malignity, but was the only Person there in the Infirmary on the 27th of the last Month.

Montpellier, July 4. Although this City is yet exempt from the Plague, the greatest Precautions are nevertheless taken against it; to which purpose, all the Inhabitants are ordered to withdraw themselves from the large neighbouring Village called Boutouet, which, in case of Necessity, is to serve for Infiraries. Our Bishop attends daily at the Council of Health, and has declared publicly, that if it happens that this City should be infected, he will not only sell his Plate, his Palace Furniture, &c. but will employ all his Estates and Revenues in the Service of the Sick; his first Floor of the Palace shall be fitted up for the Reception of the Priests and such Officers who are to look after the diseased, whose Table shall be defrayed at his Expence; and that, as to himself, he will lodge in the second Story, and will make his own Person the very last of his Cares.

Genoa, July 5. M. de Chavigny, Envoy of France, arrived here on the 29th of the last Month, and had Audience of the Doge on the 1st Instant; having since received the Compliments from all the Members of this State on Occasion of his Return hither. It is believed that the British Minister and this State are disposed to leave the Matter in Dispute between them, relating to the Summons from this Republick to some of the Subjects of Great Britain, to the Mediation of M. de Chavigny: And as the two British Ships which for some time stopt up the Port of Genoa, and were joined on the 3d instant by two others, have not hitherto made any Reparations, it is hoped that the good Offices of the French Minister will accommodate the present Differences.

Turin, July 16. On the 14th Instant, the King and the Court removed from La Veneria to Rivoli, to pass the time of the great Heat in the neighbourhood of the Mountains. The Letters from Modena say, that the Misunderstandings being entirely accommodated at that Court, the Prince is returned, and was very well received by the Duke his Father.

Vienna, July 12. An Express is newly arrived from Constantinople, with Dispatches from the Imperial Secretary; by which it appears, that the Grand Vizier has given him repeated Assurances of the pacifick Dispositions of the Ottoman Port: But as the Turks have laid two Bridges over the Danube, our Troops are ordered to keep a strict Watch upon their Motions. The Remonstrance lately sent hither from the Protestants in Hungary, is very ample, and couched in very moderate, though Pathetick Terms: That Writing remains yet in the Hands of the Ministry, who are so examine it: They have likewise under Examination the new Remonstrances sent from the Evangelical Body at Ratisbon.

Paris, July 28. A final Resolution will be taken in the Council of Regency which is to be held on the 29th Instant, upon the Project concerning the Declarations to be made by those who have made any Purchases since the Month of June, 1718. In the mean time, a Paper has been delivered to every one of the Commissaries of the Finances, and such of the Councillours of State as have the Inspection of the Offices of the Visa, to give their Opinion in Writing upon the following Articles. 1. Whether the Notaries may be obliged to give Copies of all the Acts they have passed within these two Years, as well with Relation to Reimbursements, as Rents and Purchases? 2. Whether it will be proper to oblige People to declare their Estates and Immoveables, as well as Moveables and Merchandize, acquired since the Establishment of the India Company? 3. Whether a Royal Chamber shall be erected to proceed against those who have made false Declarations? 4. Whether a List shall be made of all those who have made false Declarations, in order to be punished either with the Loss of the Effects they have declared, or with a Tax; or in what other Manner? 5. Whether it was not proper to discontinue the Payment of the Rents of the Town-House to those who have not declared that the Contracts they have lately acquired proceed from Reimbursements of the former Contracts for the same Sums? On the 22d Instant, the King found himself a little out of Order, but his Indi-position soon went off, and his Majesty is now perfectly well. The Duke d'Aumont was taken with a Fit of an Apoplexy on the 23d, for which he was twice let Blood, and has since taken the Emetic Draught; nevertheless 'tis much doubted if he be out of Danger. On the 21st at Night, the March-al d'Estrees entertained the Duke of Orleans at Supper, at his fine House named Difly; and during the Entertainment, the Marechal's Lady presented to the Duke her Gentleman of the Horse, and obtained for him a Pension of 1000 Livres, a Breve of Lieutenant Collonel, and the Cross of the Ordre of St. Lewis.
